Last Week

We had the pleasure of introducing Richard Mulvaney, Director of the Queen Victoria Museum and Art Gallery (QVMAG) to Tamar Sunrise at last week's Meeting. Richard has over 25 years' experience in cultural heritage and museum management, including being the inaugural Director of the Bradman Museum in Bowral, NSW and more recently, CEO of the NSW Rail Transport Museum, before moving to Launceston to join the QVMAG.

Richard reminded us of the wonderful museum venues we have here in Launceston, at both the Inveresk and Royal Park sites. Richard shared some of the 120-year history of the museum and the interesting story of selecting the site for a museum originally. Members were encouraged and enthused to visit the museum with family and visiting friends and relatives and enjoy the Art Gallery, The Blacksmith Shop, Phenomena Factory, Planetarium and other amazing collections that feature at the QVMAG. - PP Lou Mason
